THE INVISALIGN CLINCHECK

Pre-treatment ClinCheck images

The ClinCheck is a series of 3D demonstrations, consisting of a combination of images, animations and mini movies which show how your teeth will move during the Invisalign treatment process. We will be able to show you a selection of before and after images and some mini movies detailing the tooth movements throughout your treatment. They will allow you to visualise the predicted tooth movements and the proposed final results.

It is important to note that these are demonstration tools only and cannot be used to absolutely predict the way your teeth will move. Orthodontic tooth movement varies from person to person and is influenced by a multitude of complex factors such as:

Individual physiological/ biological responses and limitations

Variations in the shapes and morphology of individual teeth

Your age, medical and dental health status

Your compliance with protocols recommended and advised by your orthodontist

The ClinCheck allows you to visualise the predicted tooth movements on-screen

Common ClinCheck questions

Why is there a triangular gap between my teeth on the ClinCheck?

Gaps between teeth can occur when two abnormally shaped teeth lie next to each other; the gap is called a black triangle. It can also occur in patients who have pre-existing gum recession. If a black triangle (space) does appear it can be resolved by further movement of the teeth to close the gap or by a very small filling which your dentist can place to camouflage the defect.

Will my gums move during treatment?

The simulations sent to you only show the movement of the teeth, the gum is not simulated as it is not predictable. The ClinCheck programme is designed to demonstrate the alignment of the teeth (show how straight your teeth will be). It is very difficult to anticipate the reaction of any patients gum to these complex movements.
